SONGS FOR MARIMBA

PERFORMED BY

TATIANA KOLEVA

WITH SPECIAL GUEST

HAN BUHRS

The song is the musical equivalent of telling a story. In our world of high speed and overload of information, millions of cyber contacts and gadgets, the song can be a moment for contemplation, to hear and listen, to reach to someone, to see, to hope, laugh and cry.

Technically, we connect the song with words and voices, but there are other ways. One of the challenges Koleva likes to take is to bring over a personal message, to let the emotional and musical expression of the percussion instruments communicate to her audience. This solo program is focusing exactly on that - the story with no words, the song with no voice but with the fascinating world of percussion and with Koleva's beloved marimba in the spotlight.

"Songs are my favorite hang outs /
'cuz they'll do on dry days /
but if it rains -and it rains a lot-my car is the only stage I've got /
I can sing on roundabouts /
usually not on highways
the window wipers provide rhythm / the engine
hums a drone /
my hands on the wheel keep turnin' on / takin'
u-turns on 'n on / repeating this song..."
